

Laura Plett

Sawmill Creek Livestock is a cow calf operation my husband Ryan and I started and now run full time. We raise commercial black angus cattle and specialize in producing quality maternally based black baldy replacement heifers. We also recently added a band of production-based sheep, to diversify and better utilize the land we have to work with.